

Bio- Michelle Martin

My name is Michelle Martin-Liekis. I am a special education teacher from Chicago, IL. I currently work (remotely!) for CPS as a middle school teacher in the cluster program for students who require a significantly modified curriculum.

Prior to becoming a special education teacher, I received my bachelor's degree from UIC in communications and my master's degree from Roosevelt University in Elementary Education. I worked as a paraprofessional while in grad school which was an amazing experience that taught me so much and ultimately why I became a special education teacher. I hold an LSB1 and middle school endorsements in speech (public speaking), social studies, science and ELA and have recently become ESL endorsement at National Louis University.

Other information about me- I am married to my high school sweetheart, I have two dachshunds, Oliver and Wesley, and I enjoy pizza Fridays with my dad every week.

Excited to work with you all year!

I hope you are all safe, happy and healthy!

Michelle
